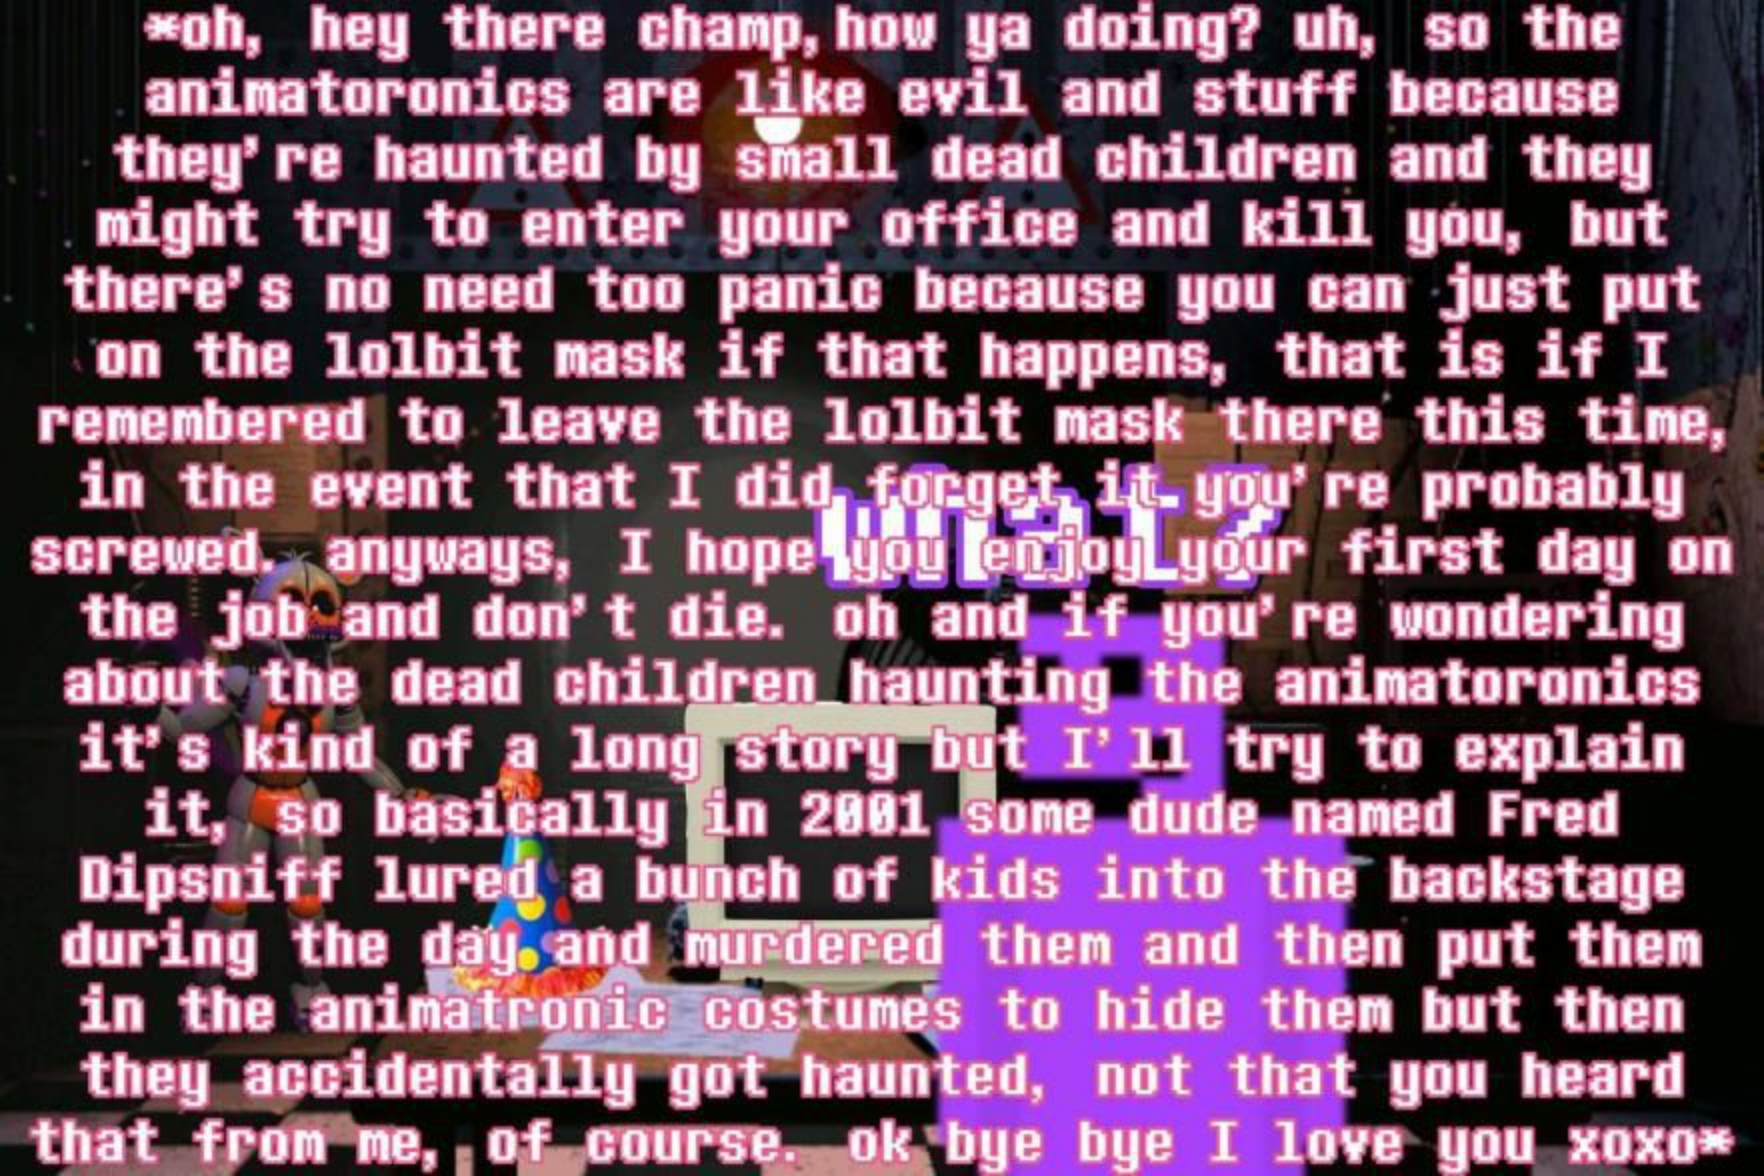
*uh, hello,
hellooo?*



oh, hey there champ, how ya doing? uh, so the animatoronics are like evil and stuff because they're haunted by small dead children and they might try to enter your office and kill you, but there's no need too panic because you can just put on the lolbit mask if that happens, that is if I remembered to leave the lolbit mask there this time, in the event that I did forget it you're probably screwed. anyways, I hope you enjoy your first day on the job and don't die. oh and if you're wondering about the dead children haunting the animatoronics it's kind of a long story but I'll try to explain it, so basically in 2001 some dude named Fred Dipsniff lured a bunch of kids into the backstage during the day and murdered them and then put them in the animatronic costumes to hide them but then they accidentally got haunted, not that you heard that from me, of course. ok bye bye I love you xoxo
